IMPORTANT UPDATE Johnson & Johnson Talcum Powder

Over two years ago, when recognized as one of the plaintiffs' lawyers having the most significant representation of talc claimants, we committed to fight to the end against Johnson & Johnson's bankruptcy and for justice on your behalf:

"We will be opposing J & J's attempt to continue delaying compensation to the mothers, wives, and daughters whose trust in Johnson & Johnson's reputation and claims of purity were misguided. Our battle along with our clients against corporate greed will be fought as hard as they have battled to survive this terrible disease."

I am delighted to report that yesterday the 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals fully agreed with us and dismissed (threw out) Johnson & Johnson's fraudulent bankruptcy. The decision was a strong rebuke of J & J's scorched earth tactics and moves all cases forward where they belong.

Although the fight is not yet over, this was the best possible outcome. The Goldstein Greco Team remains fully committed to obtaining the best result for you and your family!

Very truly yours;

Brian A. Goldstein, M.D., J.D.*
